1. The director of the Iskra factory is Marincic, his assistant is Kristofek, and the workers' syndicate representative is Sodja. The militia commander at the factory is a certain Mrak.
 2. When workers' meetings are held at the factory, all doors are locked in advance so that the workers may not leave the factory and are thus forced to attend the meeting.
 3. The factory has a special school, divided into an economic school and an industrial school. The economic school prepares students for positions as chiefs of various factories, as directors in various enterprises, and as supervisors. The industrial school prepares students as industrial specialists, that is, as highly skilled workers. There is a total of 300 students at the school, the majority of whom are Croats who live in a special school boarding house. The Slovene students live at home.
